

Richmond during the Civil War

CIVIL WAR VIRGINIA

Embark on a journey to the crossroads of conflict in Northern Virginia. Your tour will begin where many believe the “first shots” of the Civil War began...Harper’s Ferry, WV. You will come to understand the history of Harper’s Ferry and the reasons John Brown chose this remote area...You will experience in-depth what occurred during the first major battle of the American Civil War at the first Manassas Battle and cover the important battle at Second Manassas before continuing to Antietam.

Relive the “bloodiest” day of the American Civil War...September 17, 1862. Visit Dunken Church, examine the cornfield, walk Bloody Lane and stop by Burnside’s Bridge. You will come to understand how Antietam proved to be one of the turning points of the Civil War.

Include Fredericksburg where you will have the opportunity to view Marye’s Heights and walk the sunken road before visiting Chatham, a plantation that served as a Union hospital.

Follow your guide as he helps to recreate what has been called Lee’s greatest victory and was one of the Confederacy’s brightest moments at Chancellorsville. Enjoy an evening tour with a combination of walking and driving where you will encounter three or four “characters” from Civil War times. Your group will end with a guided tour of Richmond. This will be an in-depth tour of the heart and soul of the southern cause. Tour Richmond by motorcoach and visit the capitol to stand on the very spot that General Robert E. Lee accepted command of the Confederate Army. Stand in St. Paul’s, the church where Davis was worshipping when he was told to leave Richmond in the Spring of 1865 for the southern cause was dying. Visit the White House of the Confederacy, the official residence of President Jefferson Davis, his wife and their children. The house was also the social, political and military center of the confederacy.

Experience the Civil War with handpicked historian guides that will take you back to the 1860s!
